

Contents

About the Companion Website, Other Search Options	ix
---	----

Chapter 1

First Considerations

1.1 About This Manual	1
1.1.1 Organization of This Manual	1
1.1.2 Payment Issues Discussed in Other NCLC Manuals	2
1.1.3 Alphabet Soup	2
1.2 Payment Systems in a Nutshell	2
1.2.1 Introduction	2
1.2.2 Transfers Directly Out of Consumer’s Bank Account	3
1.2.3 Other Consumer Payments	4
1.2.4 Payments to the Consumer	4
1.3 Primary Sources of Law	5
1.3.1 Uniform Commercial Code (UCC)	5
1.3.2 Electronic Fund Transfer Act	5
1.3.3 NACHA Rules	5
1.3.4 Electronic Signatures and Records	6
1.3.5 Truth in Lending Act	6

Chapter 2

The Consumer’s Payment by Personal Check

2.1 Scope of This Chapter	7
2.2 How Personal Check Payments Work	7
2.2.1 Drawers, Drawees, Payors, Payees, and Holders	7
2.2.2 The Features of a Printed Check	7
2.2.3 The Payment Amount and the Signature	8
2.2.4 Presentment; Depository, Intermediate, Collecting, and Payor Banks; “On Us” Checks	8
2.3 UCC Regulation of Check Payments: The Basics	8
2.3.1 UCC Articles 3 and 4 Govern Check Transactions	8
2.3.2 Checks, Negotiable Instruments, Notes, Drafts, and Items	9
2.3.3 Bank’s UCC Duties of Good Faith and Ordinary Care	9
2.3.4 Bank’s Common Law Duties: Fiduciary and Negligence	10
2.3.5 UCC Duties of Good Faith and Ordinary Care Cannot Be Waived	11
2.3.6 Variation of Other UCC Provisions by Agreement of the Parties	11
2.4 Consumer Access to Cancelled Checks, Account Statements, and Other Information	11
2.4.1 Initial Disclosures	11
2.4.2 Checking Account Periodic Statements	11
2.4.3 Consumer Access to Cancelled Checks	12
2.4.3.1 General	12
2.4.3.2 Check Truncation	12
2.4.3.3 The Check 21 Act and Substitute Checks	13

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

2.4.3.4	How to Distinguish Electronic Check Conversions from Check Payments	13
2.4.4	Notice to Consumers of Bank Fees	14
2.5	Consumer Liability for Forged or Altered Checks, Unauthorized Telechecks	15
2.5.1	General Rule That Consumer Not Liable	15
2.5.1.1	General	15
2.5.1.2	Forged or Unauthorized Consumer Signature	16
2.5.1.3	Forged Indorsements	17
2.5.1.4	Altered Checks	17
2.5.2	Negligence Can Cause Consumer Drawer to Be Liable for Unauthorized Use	18
2.5.2.1	General	18
2.5.2.2	Comparative Negligence	18
2.5.2.3	UCC Encourages Banks to Attempt to Hold Consumers Liable	19
2.5.3	Liability When Consumer Fails to Report Problem After Receiving Bank Statement	19
2.5.3.1	No Liability When No Statement Received or When Indorsement Is Forged	19
2.5.3.2	Rules Concerning First Alteration or Forged Signature	20
2.5.3.3	Rules Concerning Subsequent Altered or Forged Checks	20
2.5.3.4	Consumer Defenses Even When Consumer Fails to Report the Loss	21
2.5.3.5	Failure to Report Loss Within One Year—Consumer Defenses Lost	21
2.5.3.6	UCC Encourages Banks to Be Tough on Consumers.	21
2.5.3.7	Individual State Enactments of UCC Vary Rules on Consumer Liability.	21
2.5.3.8	Variation of the UCC Rules by Agreement Between Consumer and Bank	22
2.5.3.8.1	General	22
2.5.3.8.2	Sympathetic facts to challenge an agreement	23
2.5.3.8.3	Adverse case law under prior UCC version distinguishable.	23
2.5.3.8.4	Truncation may also be a basis not to enforce the agreement.	23
2.5.4	Other Theories of Consumer Liability	24
2.5.5	A Special Case: “Telechecks” or Preauthorized Drafts.	24
2.5.5.1	Nature of the Problem	24
2.5.5.2	UCC Protections	25
2.5.5.3	Which Bank Has the Motivation to Dispute the Consumer’s Claim?.	26
2.5.5.4	Consumer Rights Under the EFTA	27
2.5.5.5	Consumer Rights Under FTC Telemarketing Rule	28
2.5.5.6	State Telemarketing Statutes	28
2.5.5.7	Consumer Claims Against the Supposed Payee; Lack of Verification as a UDAP Violation.	28
2.6	Check 21 and Substitute Checks	29
2.6.1	Check 21 Overview	29
2.6.1.1	Introduction	29
2.6.1.2	Check 21 Encourages Agreements Among Banks to Accept Electronic Versions of Checks	29
2.6.1.3	Entities That Can Create Electronic Versions of Checks	29
2.6.1.4	When a Bank Refuses to Accept an Electronic Version: The Substitute Check	30
2.6.1.5	Check 21 Remedies Apply Only to Narrow Class of Injury	30

Contents

2.6.2	Justification for Check 21 and Implications for Consumers	30
2.6.3	The Substitute Check and the Check 21 Act	31
2.6.3.1	Qualifying Substitute Checks Can Replace Original Checks	31
2.6.3.2	Substitute Check Is the Legal Equivalent of the Original Check	32
2.6.3.3	Consumer Ability to Request an Original or a Substitute Check	32
2.6.3.4	Consumer Awareness Notices	33
2.6.3.5	FRB Requires Electronic Versions of Checks to Originate Only from Paper Checks	34
2.6.3.6	Applicable Law If Check Is Processed by Image Exchange But Never Converted to a Substitute Check	35
2.6.4	Right to Require Bank to Reinvestigate—"The Expedited Re-Credit"	35
2.6.4.1	General	35
2.6.4.2	Recredit Right Applies Only When Consumer Is Provided a Substitute Check	36
2.6.4.3	The Time Frame for Submitting a Claim	37
2.6.4.4	Banks Can Require Written Claim Submissions, Explaining the Claim's Substance	37
2.6.4.5	When Consumer Has Right to Recredit	38
2.6.4.6	Reversing the Recredit	39
2.6.4.7	Proposed FRB Model Notices to Consumer of Recredit Rights	39
2.6.4.8	Bank That Recredits Still May be Liable for Additional Damages	39
2.6.5	Private Remedies	39
2.6.5.1	General	39
2.6.5.2	Substitute Check Warranties	40
2.6.5.2.1	General	40
2.6.5.2.2	The legal equivalence warranty	40
2.6.5.2.3	The duplicative payment warranty	41
2.6.5.3	Breach of Substitute Check Warranty Allows Certain Parties to Fully Recover Any Injury from Certain Banks	41
2.6.5.4	Certain Banks Have Limited Liability to Certain Parties Even When No Warranty Is Breached	42
2.6.5.5	Any Person Can Sue Any Person for Breach of Warranty or an Act Violation	42
2.6.5.6	Impact of Consumer's Negligence on Recovery	43
2.6.5.7	Relationship to Other Law and Other Remedies	43
2.7	Wrongful Dishonor; Not Sufficient Funds (NSF) Checks	43
2.7.1	Wrongful Dishonor of Properly Payable Checks	43
2.7.2	Grounds for Bank to Claim That Check Is Not Properly Payable	44
2.7.3	When Does an Overdraft Make a Check Not Properly Payable?	45
2.7.3.1	Determining If an Overdraft Would Result	45
2.7.3.2	Overdraft Protection May Require That Check Be Honored	45
2.7.3.3	When Funds Sufficient to Pay Some, But Not All, Presented Checks	46
2.7.3.4	Bank's Selective Honoring of Checks Even When Not Sufficient Funds Are Available	47
2.7.4	Electronic Re-Presentation of Insufficient-Funds Checks	47
2.7.4.1	Description	47
2.7.4.2	The UCC, Not the EFTA, Applies to Most Aspects of an Electronic Re-Presentation	48
2.7.4.3	EFTA Applies to Fee Charges for Re-Presented Checks	48
2.7.4.4	NACHA Protections	49
2.7.4.4.1	Introduction	49
2.7.4.4.2	Only certain checks can be electronically re-presented	49
2.7.4.4.3	Limits on the number of electronic re-presentments allowed	50

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

2.7.4.4.4	Bad-check fees cannot be included in electronic re-presentation	50
2.7.4.4.5	Bank warranties relating to duplicate presentments, defenses to payment, and the consumer's insolvency	50
2.7.4.4.6	RCK authorization and notice	50
2.7.4.4.7	The consumer's right to stop payment on an electronic re-presentation	51
2.7.4.4.8	The consumer's right to a recredit for re-presentments not complying with NACHA rules	51
2.7.4.4.9	Requirements that banks retain copies of RCK checks . . .	52
2.7.5	Consumer Liability for Not Sufficient Funds (NSF) Checks	52
2.7.5.1	Criminal Liability	52
2.7.5.2	Civil Liability	53
2.8	Consumer Attempts to Limit Payment: Post-Dated Checks, Stop Payment Orders, and Termination of Account or Joint Ownership	54
2.8.1	Post-Dated Checks	54
2.8.2	Right to Stop Payment	55
2.8.2.1	General	55
2.8.2.2	Description of Check with Reasonable Certainty	56
2.8.2.3	Stop Payment Order Must Be Timely	56
2.8.2.4	Stop Payment Order May Lapse	57
2.8.2.5	Bank's Liability for Failing to Honor Stop Payment Order	57
2.8.2.6	Bank's Right to Require Consumer to Stop Payment	57
2.8.2.7	Right to Payment by Check Cashers and Other Subsequent Holders of a Stopped Payment Check	57
2.8.2.7.1	Rights of payee on the check	57
2.8.2.7.2	Rights of subsequent holders to sue on the check	57
2.8.2.7.3	When is a subsequent check holder a holder in due course?	58
2.8.2.7.4	Rights of the depository bank	58
2.8.3	Termination of the Consumer's Account	59
2.8.3.1	Consumer's Right to Terminate Mirrors the Right to Stop Payment	59
2.8.3.2	Bank's Termination of Account	59
2.8.4	Removal of Joint Owner from Account	59
2.8.5	When Joint Account Owner Dies	59
2.9	When Check Discharges Debt; Accord and Satisfaction	60
2.9.1	Discharge of Consumer's Obligation to Payee	60
2.9.2	Date on Which Obligation Is Satisfied	60
2.9.3	Accord and Satisfaction	60
2.10	When Check Is Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed After It Is Received by Payee	61

Chapter 3

Check Payments to Consumers: Lost Checks, Funds Availability, and Check Cashing

3.1	Introduction	63
3.2	When Consumer Payee Loses a Check	63
3.3	Does a Consumer Cashing a Check Extinguish Consumer Rights or Act As Acceptance of an Offer?	64
3.3.1	Accord and Satisfaction	64
3.3.2	When Cashing a Check Results in a Contract for Goods or Services	64
3.4	When Deposited Funds Become Available	65
3.4.1	General	65
3.4.2	Regulation CC's Funds Availability Schedule	66

Contents

3.4.3	Next-Day Availability	67
3.4.3.1	Next-Day Availability for Certain Types of Deposits	67
3.4.3.2	Limited Dollar Next-Day Availability for Any Type of Deposit	67
3.4.4	Second-Day and Fifth-Day Availability	68
3.4.5	One Day Extension for Certain Withdrawals	68
3.4.6	Exceptions	68
3.4.6.1	New Accounts	68
3.4.6.2	Doubtful collectibility	68
3.4.6.3	Repeated Overdrafts	69
3.4.6.4	Emergency Cases	69
3.4.6.5	Large Deposits and Re-Deposited Checks	69
3.4.6.6	Extra Time Granted for Exceptions; Notice Requirement	69
3.4.7	Automated Teller Machines (ATMs)	69
3.4.8	Disclosure Requirements	70
3.4.9	Remedies for Violation of the Availability Rules	70
3.4.10	Fraud Based on Confusion Between Available Funds and Paid Checks	71
3.5	Payee's Attempts to Cash Check at Drawer's Bank	71
3.5.1	Bank Can Require Identification But Cannot Refuse to Cash the Check	71
3.5.2	Can Drawer's Bank Charge Payee a Fee to Cash a Check?	72
3.5.2.1	General	72
3.5.2.2	Does Employer Violate State Labor Law When Employer's Bank Charges Employee a Fee to Cash Pay Checks?	72
3.5.2.3	Special Treatment for National Banks	73
3.6	Regulation of Check Cashers	74
3.6.1	Introduction	74
3.6.2	State Regulation	74
3.6.3	Liability for Violation of Check-Cashing Statutes	75
3.6.4	Usury and Truth in Lending	75
3.6.5	Other Federal Regulation	76

Chapter 4

Electronic Transfers from the Consumer's Account

4.1	Scope of This Chapter	77
4.1.1	Topics Covered	77
4.1.2	The Purpose of the EFTA	77
4.1.3	Scope of the EFTA	78
4.1.3.1	Types of Accounts and Persons Covered	78
4.1.3.1.1	General	78
4.1.3.1.2	Coverage of prepaid card accounts	78
4.1.3.2	Types of Transfers Covered; Checks That Become Electronic Transfers and Vice Versa	79
4.1.4	Treatment of State Law	80
4.1.5	NACHA Rules	81
4.1.5.1	General	81
4.1.5.2	How ACH Operates; NACHA Terminology	81
4.1.5.3	Types of ACH Entries	82
4.1.5.4	Electronic Signatures and Records	83
4.2	Issuance of Debit and ATM Cards, Other Access Devices	84
4.2.1	Types of Access Devices	84
4.2.1.1	General	84
4.2.1.2	Law Applicable to Multi-Function Cards	84
4.2.2	Issuance of Unsolicited Access Devices	85
4.2.3	Issuance of Access Devices Requested by Consumer	85
4.2.4	Initial Disclosures	86
4.2.4.1	Form of Disclosures	86

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

4.2.4.2	When Initial Disclosures Must Be Made	86
4.2.4.3	Content of Initial Disclosures	87
4.2.4.4	Overdraft Disclosure Requirements	88
4.2.5	Subsequent Disclosures	88
4.2.5.1	Change in Terms	88
4.2.5.2	Error Resolution Notices.	89
4.2.6	EFTA Disclosures May Be Provided Electronically	89
4.2.6.1	General	89
4.2.6.2	Consumer Remedies When Disclosure Is Sent But Not Received	89
4.3	Consumer Liability for Unauthorized Transfers	90
4.3.1	When Is a Transfer Unauthorized?	90
4.3.2	No Consumer Liability Based on Consumer Negligence; Consumer Cannot Waive EFTA Rules	91
4.3.3	Liability When Access Device Is Lost or Stolen	91
4.3.3.1	Preconditions to Liability	91
4.3.3.2	Maximum $50 Liability When Consumer Promptly Reports the Loss	92
4.3.3.3	Liability Up to $500 When Loss or Theft of Access Device Not Reported in Two Days	92
4.3.4	Unauthorized Charges That Appear on the Consumer's Statement	93
4.3.4.1	Introduction	93
4.3.4.2	No Liability for Initial Set of Unauthorized Charges in First Sixty Days If No Loss or Theft of Access Device	93
4.3.4.3	Liability for Subsequent Unauthorized Charges When Initial Charges Not Reported in Sixty Days	93
4.3.4.3.1	Unlimited liability for subsequent purchases applies whether or not access device used	93
4.3.4.3.2	How liability is computed	93
4.3.4.3.3	Exception to sixty-day deadline and unlimited liability rule	94
4.3.5	Consumer's Notice to Institution of Unauthorized Use	94
4.3.6	UCC, Other State Law, or Agreement Can Lessen Consumer Liability, Authorize Consequential Damages	94
4.3.7	State Law and NACHA Policy on Data Breach Notification	95
4.4	Procedures for Resolving Errors	95
4.4.1	Errors Covered	95
4.4.2	Consumer's Notice to Institution of Error.	96
4.4.3	Institution's Duty to Investigate	97
4.4.4	Limited Duty to Examine Information Held by Third Parties	98
4.4.5	Completion of Investigation	98
4.4.6	Extension of Investigation Period from Ten to Forty-Five Days.	99
4.4.7	Time Extension for Certain Transactions	99
4.4.7.1	Extension for Out-of-State and Point-of-Sale Transfers	99
4.4.7.2	Proposed Extension for New Accounts	100
4.4.8	Post-Investigatory Procedures; Report of Findings	100
4.5	Use of ATM and Debit Cards; Fees, Receipts, Errors, Violence	100
4.5.1	Disclosure of ATM Fees	100
4.5.2	Receipts at Electronic Terminals	102
4.5.2.1	General	102
4.5.2.2	Promotional Materials Placed on the Receipt	102
4.5.2.3	Defenses to Institution's Failure to Provide a Receipt	102
4.5.2.4	Content of the Receipt	102
4.5.2.5	The $15 Exception.	103
4.5.3	ATM Withdrawal Errors	103
4.5.3.1	Introduction	103

Contents

4.5.3.2	Inadequacy of EFTA Error Resolution Procedure	103
4.5.3.3	Common Law Approaches	104
4.5.4	Bank Liability for Violence at ATMs	104
4.5.4.1	Introduction	104
4.5.4.2	Tort Standards for Premises Liability	104
4.5.4.3	Foreseeability of Criminal Activity	105
4.5.4.4	Must Bank’s Knowledge Be Superior to Consumer’s?	106
4.5.4.5	Federal Standards Concerning Consumer Safety at ATMs	106
4.5.4.6	State ATM Statutes Regarding Consumer Safety	106
4.5.4.7	Litigating an ATM Liability Case	107
4.6	Debit Card’s Use to Purchase Goods or Services	108
4.6.1	Disputing an Amount Charged to the Debit Card	108
4.6.2	Telemarketing Sales and Debit Cards	110
4.6.3	Debit Card Issuer’s Hold on Consumer’s Bank Account	110
4.7	Electronic Check Conversion (ECC): Checks Used as Source Documents for Electronic Transfers	111
4.7.1	The EFTA Applies to ECC	111
4.7.2	How to Distinguish Electronic Check Conversions from Check Payments	113
4.7.3	NACHA Rules Distinguish Between ARC and POP ECCs	114
4.7.4	Accounts Receivable Entries (ARC)	114
4.7.4.1	Notice and Consumer Authorization	114
4.7.4.2	NACHA Limitations for ARC Transfers	115
4.7.4.3	Consumer’s Right to Obtain a Copy of the Original Check	116
4.7.4.4	Information on Periodic Statements	116
4.7.4.5	Bank Warranties	116
4.7.4.6	Consumer’s Right to Stop Payment on ARC	117
4.7.4.7	Right to a Recredit of ARC	117
4.7.4.8	EFTA Protections for Unauthorized and Erroneous ARC Transfers	118
4.7.4.9	Fee Charges for Returned ARC Transfers	118
4.7.5	Point-of-Purchase Entries (POP)	118
4.7.5.1	How POP operates	118
4.7.5.2	Authorization for POP Entries and Information on Periodic Statements	119
4.7.5.3	Bank Warranties in POP Entries	120
4.7.5.4	Stop Payment Orders for POPs	120
4.7.5.5	Consumer’s Recredit Right for POP Entries	120
4.7.5.6	EFTA Protections for Unauthorized and Erroneous Pop Transfers	121
4.7.5.7	When There Are Insufficient Funds to Complete the POP Transfer	121
4.7.5.8	Back Office Conversion (BOC) Entries	121
4.7.5.9	Back Office Conversion (BOC) Warranties	122
4.8	Sales Over the Telephone Leading to Electronic Transfers	122
4.8.1	General; the FTC Telemarketing Rule	122
4.8.2	Establishing Authorization for a Telephone Transfer	123
4.8.3	Consumer Recredit Rights for Unauthorized TEL Debits	125
4.8.4	Stop Payment Orders	126
4.8.5	When Telemarketer Already Possesses the Consumer’s Bank Account Information	126
4.8.5.1	Introduction	126
4.8.5.2	Consumer Protections When Telemarketer Has Pre-Acquired Account Information	126
4.8.5.3	Additional Protections When Pre-Acquired Account Information Is Used in “Free-to-Pay” Sale	127
4.8.6	NACHA Anti-Fraud Investigations of TEL Entries	127
4.9	Internet-Based Transfers	127
4.9.1	NACHA Rules for Internet-Initiated Entries (WEB)	127

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

4.9.2 NACHA Anti-Fraud and Security Protections for WEB Entries	128
4.9.3 Internet Transactions and Consumers with Disabilities	129
4.10 Electronic Transfers Relating to Internet Payday Loans	129
4.11 Preauthorized Electronic Fund Transfers	130
4.11.1 Definition	130
4.11.2 Authorization for Fund Transfers Out of Consumer's Account	131
4.11.3 Disclosure When Transfer Is a Variable Amount	132
4.11.4 Right to Stop Payment.	132
4.11.5 Compulsory Preauthorized Electronic Transfers Required by a Creditor	133
4.11.6 NACHA Rules	133
4.12 New E-Commerce Payment Services	134
4.13 Decoupled Debit Cards.	134
4.14 Account Aggregation	135
4.14.1 The Basics.	135
4.14.1.1 Introduction.	135
4.14.1.2 Entities Involved in Account Aggregation	135
4.14.1.3 How Aggregators Obtain a Consumer's Data	136
4.14.1.4 Services Offered by Account Aggregators	136
4.14.2 Unauthorized Use	136
4.14.2.1 The Nature of the Problem	136
4.14.2.2 Limited Regulation.	137
4.14.2.3 EFTA Protections.	137
4.14.2.3.1 EFTA applies to account aggregation.	137
4.14.2.3.2 Who is liable for unauthorized transfers?	137
4.14.2.4 Regulation Z Protections When Unauthorized Use Relates to Credit Card Account.	138
4.14.2.5 Breach of Contract or of Duty of Care; Bad Faith.	138
4.14.2.6 Liability Disclaimers.	139
4.14.2.7 Bank's Liability for Aggregator's Wrongdoing When Bank Has Relationship with Aggregator.	140
4.14.2.8 Bank Liability Even When There Is No Relationship with Aggregator	140
4.14.3 Error Resolution	140
4.14.3.1 Types of Errors	140
4.14.3.2 Error Resolution Under Regulation E	141
4.14.3.3 Fair Credit Billing Act	141
4.14.3.4 Timeliness Promised in the Contract	141
4.14.3.5 Disclaimers	142
4.14.4 Cross-Marketing and Privacy	142
4.14.4.1 Gramm-Leach-Bliley	142
4.14.4.2 Other Protections	143
4.14.5 Fees	143
4.14.5.1 Disclosure in the Contract	143
4.14.5.2 Truth in Savings Requirements.	143
4.14.6 Need Aggregators Re-Publish Disclosures Found on Websites Relating to the Consumer Accounts?	143
4.15 Remedies for EFTA and NACHA Rule Violations	144
4.15.1 EFTA Remedies When Institution Fails to Follow Consumer Transfer Instructions—Section 1693h	144
4.15.2 Liability for Any EFTA Violation—Section 1693m.	144
4.15.3 Special EFTA Liability Relating to Error Resolutions—section 1693f(e)	145
4.15.4 EFTA Statute of Limitations; Federal Court Jurisdiction	145
4.15.5 Can Consumers Seek Relief for NACHA Rule Violations?	146
4.15.6 NACHA Enforcement of Consumer Complaints.	147
4.16 State Law Protections for Cardholders	148

Contents

Chapter 5

Money Orders and International Wire Transfers, Cashier's and Traveler's Checks

5.1 Bank and Personal Money Orders	149
5.1.1 Introduction	149
5.1.2 Parties to a Money Order; Distinguishing Bank from Personal Money Orders	149
5.1.3 Applicable Law for Bank and Personal Money Orders	150
5.1.3.1 The UCC	150
5.1.3.2 FDIC Insurance	150
5.1.3.3 State Money Transmitter Laws Applicable to Money Orders	150
5.1.3.4 Applicability of the Expedited Funds Availability Act	150
5.1.3.5 Applicability of the USA Patriot Act	151
5.1.4 Stop Payment of Money Orders	151
5.1.4.1 Introduction	151
5.1.4.2 Stopping Payment on Bank Money Orders	151
5.1.4.3 Stopping Payment on Personal Money Orders	152
5.1.5 Wrongful Dishonor of Money Order	152
5.1.6 Issuer's Insolvency	152
5.1.7 When Money Order Is Lost or Stolen from Purchaser	153
5.1.8 Payee Who Fails to Apply Money Order to Consumer's Debt	153
5.1.9 Money Order Scams	153
5.2 International Money Orders and Wire Transfers	154
5.2.1 Introduction	154
5.2.2 Applicable Law	154
5.2.2.1 Introduction	154
5.2.2.2 Is Western Union Governed by the Federal Common Law?	154
5.2.2.3 Applicability of State Contract Law to Other International Money Orders	155
5.2.2.4 Legislative Responses	156
5.2.2.5 Applicability of State Money Transmitter Statutes to International Wires	156
5.2.2.6 EFTA Application to International Wires	157
5.3 Prepaid Cards, Cell Phone, and Other New Remittance Systems	157
5.4 Postal Money Orders	157
5.5 Bank Checks	158
5.5.1 Cashier's and Teller's Checks Generally	158
5.5.2 Lost and Stolen Bank Checks	159
5.6 Traveler's Checks	159

Chapter 6

Credit Cards

6.1 The Basics	161
6.1.1 Introduction	161
6.1.2 Credit Card Payments Distinguished from Other Payment Methods	161
6.1.3 Types of Credit Cards	162
6.1.3.1 A Credit Card Need Not Be a Card	162
6.1.3.2 General Purpose, Two-Party, and Travel and Entertainment Cards	162
6.1.3.3 Secured Credit Cards	163
6.1.3.4 Multi-Function Credit Cards	163
6.1.3.5 Charges Added to Phone Bills	163
6.1.4 Parties to Bank Credit Card Transactions	164
6.1.4.1 Description of the Parties	164
6.1.4.2 Parties' Relationship When a Consumer Disputes a Charge	165
6.2 Terms of the Agreement Between Card Issuer and Card Holder	165

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

6.2.1	Formation of the Agreement	165
6.2.2	Card Issuer’s Unilateral Change of Terms	166
6.2.3	Typical Terms of Agreement	167
6.3	Liability for Unauthorized Use	167
6.3.1	Consumer Not Liable Unless Card Issuer Meets Three Conditions	167
6.3.2	Maximum Liability of $50 Even When Three Card-Issuer Conditions Are Met	168
6.3.3	Card Agreement May Supplement, But Not Waive, TILA Protections	169
6.3.4	Protections Apply to Business-Use Cards, Telephone Calling Cards, and Other Forms of Credit Otherwise Exempt Under TILA	169
6.3.5	When Is a Card’s Use Unauthorized?	170
6.3.5.1	General	170
6.3.5.2	Apparent Authority	170
6.3.5.3	Benefit to the Cardholder	171
6.3.6	Misuse by Authorized Users and Card Bearers	171
6.3.7	Revocation of Authorization	172
6.3.8	Investigation Procedures	172
6.3.9	Resolution; Adverse Credit Reports	173
6.4	Raising Seller-Related Claims Against the Credit Card Issuer	173
6.4.1	Introduction	173
6.4.2	Applicable Credit Card Transactions and Consumer Claims	174
6.4.3	Three Preconditions to Asserting Cardholder Claims and Defenses	174
6.4.4	Payment of the Disputed Amount Waives Consumer Rights	175
6.4.5	Do FCBA Notice Requirements Apply to Claims and Defenses Provision?	175
6.4.6	Limits on Card Issuer While the Dispute Is Pending	176
6.4.7	State Law Allowing Consumer to Raise Seller-Related Defenses on Credit Card Charge	176
6.5	Consumer Rights When Issuer Submits Erroneous Credit Card Bill	176
6.5.1	Scope	176
6.5.2	Definition of Billing Error	177
6.5.3	Notice of Billing Error	178
6.5.3.1	Deadline for Submission	178
6.5.3.2	Form of Notice and When It Must Be Sent	179
6.5.3.3	Content of Notice	179
6.5.3.4	Multiple Billing Errors	179
6.5.3.5	Acknowledgment of Notice; Temporary Correction of the Account	180
6.5.4	Status of Disputed Amount Pending Resolution	180
6.5.4.1	Consumer’s Right to Withhold Payment	180
6.5.4.2	No Finance Charges on the Disputed Amount	180
6.5.4.3	No Attempt to Collect Disputed Amount Pending Resolution	180
6.5.4.4	Impact of Dispute on Consumer’s Credit Record	181
6.5.4.5	Impact of Dispute on Automatic Deductions from Consumer’s Deposit Account	181
6.5.5	Creditor’s Billing Error Investigation	182
6.5.6	Resolution of Error	182
6.5.6.1	Resolution Favoring the Consumer	182
6.5.6.2	Resolution Not Favoring the Consumer	182
6.5.6.3	Charges For Error-Resolution Procedure	183
6.6	Remedies for TILA Credit Card Violations	183
6.6.1	TILA Remedies	183
6.6.2	ECOA Remedies When Card Issuer Retaliates Against Cardholder’s Enforcement of TILA Rights	184
6.7	Credit Card Restrictions on Telemarketers	184
6.7.1	General	184

Contents

6.7.2 Prohibition Against Unauthorized Billing	185
6.7.3 Preacquired Account Telemarketing	186
6.7.3.1 Introduction	186
6.7.3.2 Limits on Telemarketer’s Acquisition of Credit Card Account Information	186
6.7.3.3 Consumer Protections When Telemarketers Utilize Preacquired Account Information	186
6.7.3.4 Use of Preacquired Account Information in “Free-to-Pay” Transaction	186
6.7.3.5 Other Legal Protections Concerning Preacquired Account Telemarketing	187
6.7.4 Credit Card Laundering	187
6.7.5 Remedies for Telemarketing Rule Violations	188
6.8 Authorized User’s Liability to the Card Issuer	188
6.9 State Law Protections for Cardholders	188

Chapter 7

Prepaid, Gift, Payroll, Telephone and Other Stored Value Cards

7.1 Overview	191
7.1.1 Introduction	191
7.1.2 Types of Stored Value Cards	191
7.1.3 Relation of Stored Value to Debit Cards	192
7.1.4 Stored Value Cards with Credit Features	193
7.1.5 Relation of Stored Value Cards to Cash and Checks	193
7.1.6 Identifying the Party Responsible to the Consumer Concerning Issuance of the Card	193
7.1.7 Regulation of Stored Value Cards	194
7.1.7.1 Limited Applicable Law	194
7.1.7.2 FRB and ABA Studies	195
7.1.7.3 Application of EFTA and Regulation E	195
7.1.7.4 Application of Other Law by Analogy	195
7.2 The Stored Value Card Agreement, Disclosures, and Requirements for Consumer Identification	196
7.2.1 The Stored Value Card Agreement	196
7.2.2 Disclosure of Terms	196
7.2.3 Consumer Identification to Activate a Card	197
7.3 The Insolvency Risk	198
7.3.1 Merchant Refusal to Accept Card Because of Card Issuer’s Insolvency	198
7.3.2 Does Merchant’s Acceptance of Card Payment Discharge the Consumer’s Obligation to the Merchant?	198
7.3.3 Consumer Remedies If Issuer Files Bankruptcy Petition	199
7.3.4 FDIC Insurance and Bank’s Closure While Holding Funds Linked to Stored Value Cards	199
7.4 When Card Does Not Function Properly	201
7.4.1 Defective Cards	201
7.4.2 Error Resolution	201
7.5 Redemption of Unused Value; Card Expiration	201
7.5.1 Consumer’s Right to Redeem Unused Value Before Card Expiration	201
7.5.2 Redemption Rights After a Card Expires	202
7.6 Lost and Stolen Cards; Unauthorized Use	203
7.7 Prepaid Telephone Cards	203
7.8 Gift Cards	205
7.8.1 Federal Gift Card Rules	205
7.8.2 State Statutes	205
7.8.3 Federal Agency Regulation	207

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

7.8.4	Litigation	207
7.9	Payroll Cards	208
7.9.1	Description	208
7.9.2	OCC Advisory Letter	209
7.9.3	Regulation E Applicability	209
7.9.4	State Regulation	210
7.10	Government Issued Prepaid Cards	211
7.10.1	Overview	211
7.10.2	Direct Express Prepaid Card for Social Security and SSI Recipients	211
7.10.2.1	Introduction	211
7.10.2.2	What Is and Is Not a “Direct Express” Card	211
7.10.2.3	Alternative Methods of Receiving Social Security and SSI Benefits	211
7.10.2.4	Use and Terms of the Direct Express Card	212
7.10.2.5	FDIC Insurance and EFTA Protections for Funds Deposited on the Direct Express Card	212
7.10.2.6	Protection from Attachment or Garnishment	213
7.10.3	Other Government Benefit Prepaid Cards	213
7.10.3.1	Introduction	213
7.10.3.2	The EFTA Applies to Non-Needs-Tested Government Payments	214
7.10.3.3	EFTA Modifications for Government Payments on Prepaid Cards	214
7.10.3.4	Other Laws Governing Government Payment Cards; State Can Also Negotiate Card Terms	214
7.10.3.5	Pro-Consumer Card Terms	215
7.11	Consumer Remedies	216

Chapter 8

Electronic Benefit Transfer (EBT)

8.1	Overview	217
8.1.1	EBT Explained	217
8.1.2	How to Use This Chapter	217
8.1.3	Card-Based EBT Systems	218
8.1.3.1	General	218
8.1.3.2	Magnetic Stripe Cards	218
8.2	Sources of Legal Guidance and Applicable Law	218
8.2.1	General	218
8.2.2	Rights Based on State Agency Contract with Private Vendor	218
8.2.2.1	Standards Imposed by State on Private Vendor	218
8.2.2.2	Advocacy Before State Agencies Concerning Terms of Vendor Contract	219
8.2.2.3	Consumer’s Rights as Third-Party Beneficiary to Contract with Private Vendor	220
8.2.3	Electronic Fund Transfer Act: Does EFTA Apply to EBT?	220
8.2.4	Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) Regulations	220
8.2.4.1	General	220
8.2.4.2	Private Remedies for Regulation Violations	220
8.2.5	Enforcement of Federal Constitutional and Statutory Law	221
8.3	EBT Card Issuance, PIN Selection, and Replacement Cards	222
8.3.1	Card Issuance	222
8.3.2	Multiple Cards	222
8.3.2.1	Reasons for Issuance	222
8.3.2.2	Advantage of Distinguishing Between Primary and Alternative Cards	223
8.3.3	Personal Identification Numbers (PINs)	223
8.3.3.1	Introduction	223

Contents

8.3.3.2	Advantages of PIN Selection over PIN Assignment	223
8.3.3.3	Methods of PIN Selection	224
8.3.4	Replacement Cards and PINs	224
8.3.4.1	General	224
8.3.4.2	Deactivation Prior to Replacement	225
8.3.4.3	Replacement Card Charges	225
8.4	Recipient EBT Training	225
8.4.1	General	225
8.4.2	Written Training Materials	226
8.4.3	In-Person Training	226
8.4.4	Training by Telephone	227
8.5	Recipient Access to EBT Benefits	227
8.5.1	Access to SNAP Benefits	227
8.5.1.1	General	227
8.5.1.2	Farmers' Markets	228
8.5.2	Access to Cash Benefits	228
8.5.2.1	General	228
8.5.2.2	The New York City Model	229
8.5.2.3	Dedicated POS Devices	229
8.5.2.4	Electronic Fund Transfers	229
8.5.2.5	Limiting Access by Type of Purchase	230
8.5.3	System Downtime and Back-Up Systems	230
8.5.3.1	General	230
8.5.3.2	Manual Vouchers for Food Stamps	230
8.5.3.3	Regulations Inapplicable to Cash Assistance Benefits	231
8.5.4	Disaster Recovery Plans	231
8.5.4.1	Introduction	231
8.5.4.2	Food Stamps	231
8.5.4.3	Cash Assistance	232
8.6	Recipient EBT Charges	232
8.6.1	No Charge for Access to Food Stamp Benefits	232
8.6.2	Recipients Typically Charged a Fee to Access EBT Cash Benefits	232
8.6.2.1	No Federal Restrictions	232
8.6.2.2	Types of Charges	233
8.6.2.3	Alternatives to States Shifting Expenses onto Those Least Able to Bear Them	233
8.6.3	ATM Charges	234
8.6.3.1	Limits on Contractor Fees	234
8.6.3.2	Limits on Bank Surcharges	235
8.6.4	POS Charges	235
8.6.4.1	Purchases Distinguished from Cash-Back Transactions	235
8.6.4.2	Access and Charges for Cash Back at State-Owned POS Terminals	235
8.6.4.3	Access and Charges for Private POS Cash-Back Transactions	236
8.6.5	Balance Inquiry Charges	236
8.6.6	Merchant Assessment of Food-Stamp-Related Fees to EBT Contractor	236
8.7	Security and Privacy	237
8.7.1	Data and Account Security	237
8.7.2	Personal Security	237
8.7.3	Lost or Stolen EBT Cards and PINs	238
8.7.3.1	Introduction	238
8.7.3.2	Food Stamps	238
8.7.3.3	Cash Benefits	238
8.7.3.4	State Practices	238
8.7.3.5	Special Issues for States with Smart Card Technology	238

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

8.7.4	Account Lock-Out After Consecutive Incorrect PIN Entries	239
8.7.5	Privacy Issues	239
8.7.5.1	Introduction	239
8.7.5.2	Privacy Issues Relating to EBT Delivery of Food Stamps	239
8.7.5.3	Smart Cards: Privacy in the New Generation of EBT	240
8.8	Error Resolution and Maintaining EBT Account Records	241
8.8.1	General	241
8.8.2	Food Stamp Error Resolution	241
8.8.2.1	Recipient Rights to Notice and Fair Hearing	241
8.8.2.2	When Agency Incorrectly Credits Recipient's Account	242
8.8.2.3	Correcting System Errors	242
8.8.2.4	Insufficient Funds Payments	242
8.8.2.5	Benefit Adjustments Based on State Claims Against Recipients	243
8.8.3	Cash Assistance Error Resolution	244
8.8.3.1	General	244
8.8.3.2	Recipient Rights to a Fair Hearing	244
8.8.3.3	ATM Misdispense	244
8.8.4	Human (Non-System) Errors	244
8.8.5	Lost or Stolen Cards	245
8.8.6	Model Error Resolution Procedures	245
8.8.6.1	Introduction	245
8.8.6.2	Formal Time Frame	245
8.8.6.3	Customer Service Number to Report Errors	245
8.8.6.4	Recipient Liability for Unauthorized Transfers	245
8.8.6.5	Circumstances Beyond Recipient's Control	246
8.8.6.6	Investigation by State	246
8.8.6.7	Lost or Stolen Cards	246
8.8.6.8	Recipient Right to Appeal	246
8.8.7	Maintaining EBT Account Records: Transaction Histories	246
8.9	Meeting Recipients' Special Needs; ATM Access for the Disabled	247
8.9.1	General	247
8.9.1.1	Introduction	247
8.9.1.2	Need for Exemptions to Mandatory EBT Systems	247
8.9.1.3	Alternative Payee System Alone Does Not Adequately Address Special Needs	247
8.9.2	Americans with Disabilities Act	248
8.9.2.1	Applicability to EBT and Other ATM Transactions	248
8.9.2.2	Guidelines Dealing Directly with ATMs	248
8.9.2.3	Private ADA Litigation	248
8.9.3	Physical Disabilities and Home-Bound Recipients	249
8.9.4	Meeting the Needs of Blind and Visually Impaired Recipients	249
8.9.4.1	Introduction	249
8.9.4.2	Training and Written Materials for the Blind and Visually Impaired	250
8.9.4.3	Mechanical Accommodations	250
8.9.4.3.1	Nature of the problem	250
8.9.4.3.2	ATM and POS equipment	250
8.9.4.3.3	Access to account balances	251
8.9.5	Deaf, Hard-of-Hearing, and Speech-Impaired Recipients	251
8.9.5.1	Training	251
8.9.5.2	EBT Phone Services for Deaf, Hard-of-Hearing, and Speech-Impaired Recipients	252
8.9.6	Recipients with Mental Illness, Group Living Facilities, the Homeless, and Homeless Meal Providers	253
8.9.6.1	Mentally Ill and Homeless Recipients	253

Contents

8.9.6.2 Issuing Cards, PINs, and Training Materials to Homeless Recipients. 253
8.9.6.2.1 Introduction. 253
8.9.6.2.2 Mailing address cannot be eligibility requirement for food stamps. 253
8.9.6.2.3 State agency is required to provide “timely, accurate, and fair service” 254
8.9.6.2.4 State must provide appropriate assistance to recipients . . 254
8.9.6.3 Obtaining Benefits Through Group Living Facilities and Homeless Meal Providers 254
8.9.7 Functionally Illiterate Recipients 255
8.9.8 Meeting Non-English Speakers’ Special Needs 255

Chapter 9

Federal Government and Other Direct Deposits to Consumer Accounts

9.1 Overview 257
9.1.1 Electronic Transfer of Federal Benefits and EFT 99 257
9.1.2 Current Methods of Transferring Federal Benefits to Consumers 257
9.1.3 Private Direct Deposits and ATM Deposits to Consumer Accounts. 258
9.2 EFTA Regulation of Direct Deposits into a Consumer’s Account 258
9.2.1 Disclosures 258
9.2.2 Correcting Errors in Direct Deposits 259
9.2.3 Transferor Cannot Specify Institution to Receive the Direct Deposit 259
9.3 Direct Deposit of Federal Benefits to a Qualifying Financial Institution 259
9.3.1 General 259
9.3.2 Potential Pitfalls of Direct Deposit of Federal Benefits 260
9.3.2.1 Introduction 260
9.3.2.2 Overdraft Loans: Expensive Temporary Credit for Federal Benefit Recipients. 260
9.3.2.3 Recipient Beware—Exempt Funds Might Be Frozen in Bank Accounts 261
9.3.3 Illegal Assignments of Benefits. 261
9.4 When Bank Fronts for Check Casher in Electronic Transfer of Consumer’s Federal Payments 262
9.4.1 How the “Front” Relationship Works 262
9.4.2 Problems That Fronted Accounts Pose for Consumers 263
9.4.2.1 High Fees. 263
9.4.2.2 Lack of Regulation, Insolvency Concerns 264
9.4.2.3 Increased Vulnerability to Predatory Lending 264
9.4.2.4 Perpetuation of Financial Apartheid 264
9.4.3 The Consumer’s Legal Rights in the Fronting Arrangement. 264
9.4.4 Is the Arrangement Legal? 265
9.4.4.1 No Explicit Authorization 265
9.4.4.2 Conflict with Statutory and Regulatory Language 265
9.4.4.3 Conflict with Congressional Intent 265
9.5 Electronic Transfer Accounts (ETAs) 266
9.5.1 General 266
9.5.2 Eligibility for an ETA Account 267
9.5.3 How to Find an Institution That Offers ETAs 268
9.5.4 Funds Eligible to Be Deposited in an ETA Account at No Charge 268
9.5.5 Withdrawals, Balance Inquiries, Fees 268
9.5.6 Point-of-Sale Features (POS) 269
9.5.7 Other Account Features 269
9.5.8 Closing of an ETA Account 270
9.5.9 Legal Protections 270

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

9.6 Federal Payments Transferred to Consumer’s EBT Account. 271
 9.6.1 Program Limited to Certain States. 271
 9.6.2 Does the EFTA Apply? 271
9.7 ATM Deposit Errors 271
 9.7.1 Nature of the Problem. 271
 9.7.2 Inadequacy of EFTA Error Resolution Procedure. 272
 9.7.3 Bailment Law 272

Chapter 10

Involuntary Payments from Bank Accounts: Garnishment, Setoff, and Collateral Seizures

10.1 Introduction 273
10.2 Consumer Protections from Bank Account Seizures 273
 10.2.1 Overview. 273
 10.2.2 Protections That Apply Explicitly to Funds in Bank Accounts 274
 10.2.3 State Wildcard Exemptions May Apply to Bank Accounts. 276
 10.2.4 Bank Accounts Held Jointly or As Tenancies by the Entirety. 277
 10.2.5 Exempt Benefit Payments Deposited in Bank Accounts. 279
 10.2.5.1 Introduction. 279
 10.2.5.2 Exempt Federal Benefits Payments 279
 10.2.5.3 State Law Exemptions for Public Benefits, Retirement Pay, and Other Special Payments 280
 10.2.5.4 Are Benefits Exempt Once Deposited in a Bank Account? 281
 10.2.5.5 Commingling in Bank Accounts of Exempt and Non-Exempt Funds. 285
 10.2.6 Protections for Wages Deposited in Bank Accounts 286
 10.2.6.1 Limits on Wage Garnishment Orders Directed to the Employer. 286
 10.2.6.2 Do Wage Protections Apply to Earnings Deposited in a Bank Account? 287
 10.2.7 No Waiver of Exemption Rights 289
10.3 Procedures to Garnish a Consumer’s Bank Account 290
 10.3.1 Significant Failings of Current Procedures. 290
 10.3.2 Roadmap to Legal Analysis 291
 10.3.3 Bank Account Freezes, Garnishment, and Due Process 292
 10.3.4 Current Electronic Banking Technology Change the Constitutional Balancing When Banks Freeze Exempt Assets. 294
 10.3.5 Prejudgment Garnishment Generally Violates Due Process 295
 10.3.6 Due Process Rights to Notice and a Hearing 296
 10.3.6.1 Notice of Bank Account Garnishment 296
 10.3.6.2 Garnishment Notice Must Inform Debtor of Exemptions 296
 10.3.6.3 Notice Must Inform Debtor of Procedures to Contest Garnishment 297
 10.3.6.4 Debtor Has a Right to a Prompt Hearing 297
 10.3.7 Causes of Action for Improper Garnishment of Exempt Funds. 298
10.4 Bank Setoff 300
 10.4.1 General 300
 10.4.2 Federal Limits on Bank Setoff 300
 10.4.2.1 Federal Limitation on Bank Setoff of Credit Card Debt 300
 10.4.2.2 Setoff After Consumer Files for Bankruptcy. 301
 10.4.2.3 Federal Benefits Deposited in Regular and Special Purpose Accounts 301
 10.4.3 State Law Limitations on Bank’s Right of Setoff 301
 10.4.4 Can Bank Set Off If It Has a Security Interest? 302
 10.4.5 Notice of Setoff 302
 10.4.6 Debts That May Be Set Off 302

Contents

10.4.6.1 Debts Must Be Mutual 302
10.4.6.2 Debt Must Have Matured 303
10.4.6.3 When Consumer Is Secondarily Liable on the Debt. 304
10.4.7 Accounts That Can Be Set Off 304
10.4.7.1 Account Must Be in Debtor’s Name 304
10.4.7.2 Special Purpose Accounts 304
10.4.7.3 Joint Accounts. 305
10.4.8 Are Funds Exempt from Garnishment Also Exempt from Setoff?. 306
10.4.9 Remedies for Wrongful Setoff. 308
10.5 Security Interest in Deposit Accounts 308

Chapter 11

Electronic Records, Contracts, Disclosures, and Signatures

11.1 General—Replacing Paper with Electronic Media 311
11.1.1 Introduction 311
11.1.2 When Can Electronic Records and Electronic Signatures Replace Paper?. . 312
11.1.2.1 General. 312
11.1.2.2 What This Chapter Is Not About 313
11.1.2.3 Electronic Record Satisfies Writing Requirement. 313
11.1.2.4 Electronic Signatures Can Satisfy Legal Requirement for a
Signature 315
11.1.2.5 Electronic Signatures and Electronic Records Applicability to
Real-World Transactions 315
11.1.3 E-Sign. 316
11.1.4 UETA 316
11.2 Scope and Coverage of E-Sign and UETA. 318
11.2.1 Scope and Defined Terms. 318
11.2.1.1 Records, Electronic Records, Electronic Signatures 318
11.2.1.2 Definition of Transaction 318
11.2.1.3 E-Sign Only Applies If Transaction Is in Interstate Commerce;
UETA Has No Limitation 318
11.2.2 Exemptions 319
11.2.2.1 Transactions Exempted from E-Sign and UETA. 319
11.2.2.2 Consumer Notices Exempted from E-Sign and UETA 319
11.2.3 Other Aspects of Law Still Apply to Electronic Transactions 320
11.3 Consumer Protections Applicable to Electronic Records Replacing Paper 320
11.3.1 Applicability of E-Sign to All Consumer Transactions 320
11.3.2 Overview of Consumer Protections in E-Sign 320
11.3.3 E-Sign Compared with UETA. 321
11.3.4 Consumer Protections Under UETA. 322
11.3.4.1 Why Care? Which Records Are Covered by UETA? 322
11.3.4.2 UETA’s Consumer Protection—A Party Cannot Be Required to Use Electronic Records 323
11.3.5 Consent Under E-Sign 324
11.3.5.1 Consumer Not Required to Accept Electronic Records. 324
11.3.5.2 E-Sign’s Special Consumer Consent Requirement 325
11.3.5.3 Definition of “Consumer” in E-Sign for Purposes of Consumer
Consent 325
11.3.5.4 Consent Must Reasonably Demonstrate Consumer’s Ability to Access the Electronic Information. 325
11.3.5.5 Ongoing Consent Requirements 327
11.3.5.5.1 Consumer withdrawal of consent. 327
11.3.5.5.2 New consent required when business changes hardware or software requirements to access
information 327

Consumer Banking and Payments Law

11.3.5.5.3	When consumer’s hardware or software change prevents access to information	328
11.3.5.6	Consequences of Consumer Consent Not Meeting E-Sign’s Requirements.	328
11.3.5.6.1	General.	328
11.3.5.6.2	Special rules for contracts	328
11.3.6	Ability to Retain and Accurately Reproduce Records; Oral Records	328
11.3.6.1	General.	328
11.3.6.2	Does an Oral Record Qualify As an Electronic Record?.	329
11.3.7	Timing, Format, and Conspicuousness of Disclosures	331
11.3.7.1	General.	331
11.3.7.2	E-Sign and UETA Requirements.	331
11.3.7.3	Federal Reserve Board Rules for Electronic Transactions	332
11.3.7.4	Federal Trade Commission Analysis	333
11.3.7.5	Requirements for National Banks	333
11.3.7.6	NCCUSL Proposals	333
11.4	Do Rules Under E-Sign or UETA Apply to Consumer Electronic Records?	334
11.4.1	Why Do We Care?	334
11.4.2	Overview.	334
11.4.3	How Extensive Is the Displacement?	335
11.4.3.1	General.	335
11.4.3.2	Only State Law Applies If Transaction Not in Interstate Commerce.	336
11.4.3.3	E-Sign Fully Effective When Federal Law Requires a Record	336
11.4.4	Roadmap to Specific Preemption Sections of E-Sign.	336
11.4.4.1	Introduction.	336
11.4.4.2	Section 7001—General Rule of Validity	337
11.4.4.3	Section 7002—Exemption to Preemption (“Reverse Preemption”).	337
11.4.4.4	Section 7003—Specific Exemptions from E-Sign	337
11.4.4.5	Section 7004—Applicability to Federal and State Government	337
11.4.5	Categorization of States’ Displacement of E-Sign.	338
11.4.5.1	Introduction.	338
11.4.5.2	States That Have Never Enacted UETA	338
11.4.5.3	States That Enacted UETA Prior to E-Sign.	338
11.4.5.3.1	E-Sign fully effective when UETA enacted before E-Sign	338
11.4.5.3.2	Uniform UETA enacted prior to E-Sign	339
11.4.5.3.3	Non-uniform UETA or other state law enacted prior to E-Sign.	339
11.4.5.4	Post-E-Sign UETA	340
11.4.5.4.1	General.	340
11.4.5.4.2	Versions of UETA that include provisions comparable to E-Sign.	340
11.4.5.4.3	Post-E-Sign non-uniform UETA or other state law.	341
11.4.5.4.4	UCITA does not displace E-Sign.	342
11.4.5.4.5	Uniform version of UETA without consumer protections and without an intent to supersede.	342
11.4.5.4.6	Uniform version of UETA enacted without consumer protections and with intent to displace E-Sign.	343
11.4.6	When UETA Fails to Displace E-Sign, Does E-Sign Preempt UETA?	343
11.4.6.1	General.	343
11.4.6.2	E-Sign Explicitly Preempts Certain Provisions	344
11.4.6.3	Implicit Preemption	345

Contents

11.4.6.4 Preemption When Specific UETA Provision Conflicts with E-Sign 345

11.4.6.5 E-Sign Does Not Transform Non-Uniform UETAs into Uniform Ones 346

11.4.7 State-by-State Analysis of E-Sign’s Consumer Consent Provision 346

11.5 Applicability of E-Sign and UETA to Governmental Agencies 348

11.5.1 Introduction 348

11.5.2 Agency Regulation of Business Use of Electronic Records and Signatures Under E-Sign 348

11.5.3 Applicability of UETA to Agency Acts 349

11.5.4 Can Agencies Specify Formats for Records Filed with the Agency? 349

11.6 Manner of Transmission and Proof of Delivery 350

11.6.1 General 350

11.6.2 When Underlying Law Does Not Specify Means of Delivery. 350

11.6.3 When Underlying Law Specifies Nature of Transmission. 350

11.6.3.1 When Underlying Law Requires Verification or Acknowledgment 350

11.6.3.2 Can Documents Be Sent Electronically When Underlying Law Requires U.S. Mail? 351

11.6.3.3 Proof of Delivery 351

11.7 Electronic Signatures 353

11.7.1 Enforceability of Electronic Signatures Under E-Sign and UETA 353

11.7.2 Examples of Electronic Signatures. 355

11.7.3 State Legislation Favoring Digital Signatures. 355

11.7.4 Special Issues with Electronic Signatures 356

11.7.4.1 Differences Between Handwritten and Electronic Signatures 356

11.7.4.2 E-Sign and UETA Attribution and Authentication Standards 357

11.7.4.3 Electronic Signatures May Serve as Authentication 358

11.7.4.4 Attribution Standards Should Not Be Based on Agreement Between the Parties 359

11.7.4.5 Potential Techniques to Authenticate Electronic Signatures 360

11.7.4.6 Inapplicability of Evidentiary Standards for Handwritten Signatures 361

11.7.5 Is the Signature Associated with the Contract?. 362

11.7.6 Notarization and Acknowledgment, Other State Law Signature Requirements 362

Appendix A Uniform Commercial Code Provisions on Consumer Checking 365

Appendix B Federal Check Regulation: Check 21, Funds Availability, and Check Collections

B.1 Check 21 Act 451

B.2 Regulation CC 460

B.3 Regulation CC Commentary—12 C.F.R. § 229, App. E 484

B.4 FRB Letter on Circular 3 Changes Regarding Electronic Items 530

B.5 FRB Circular 3 Provisions on Electronic Items 531

B.6 Sample Substitute Check 533

Appendix C Payments to Telemarketers

C.1 Selected Provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Telemarketing Sales Rule—16 C.F.R. Part 310 535

C.2 OCC Bulletin on Payment Processors 538

Appendix D	Electronic Fund Transfer
	D.1 The Electronic Fund Transfer Act	541
	D.2 Regulation E on Electronic Fund Transfers	550
	D.3 Official Staff Interpretations Regarding Regulation E	562
	D.4 Federal Reserve Board Pamphlet on Electronic Check Conversion	576
Appendix E	Truth in Savings
	E.1 Truth in Savings Act	581
	E.2 Regulation DD	585
	E.3 Official Staff Commentary to Regulation DD	591
Appendix F	Truth in Lending Provisions Regarding Defenses to Credit Card Charges
	F.1 Truth in Lending Act Provisions	603
	F.2 Regulation Z Provisions	609
	F.3 Official Staff Commentary on Regulation Z	612
Appendix G	Stored Value and Prepaid Cards
	G.1 Model Stored Value Card Protection Act	621
	G.2 FDIC Opinion on Stored Value Card Insurability	623
	G.3 OCC Letter on FDIC Insurance for Prepaid Cards	626
Appendix H	Electronic Payment of Needs-Based Government Benefits (Electronic Benefits Transfer—EBT)
	H.1 Department of Agriculture Food Stamp Program Regulations Relating to EBT—7 C.F.R. § 274.12	629
	H.2 EBT State Contact Information	639
	H.3 Information on EBT Programs	643
	H.3.1 Summary of Selected Characteristics of State EBT Systems	643
	H.3.2 WIC EBT Status Report	649
	H.3.3 Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (Food Stamps) EBT-Related FAQ	653
Appendix I	EFT 99 and ETA Materials
	I.1 Department of Treasury Regulations on EFT 99	655
	I.2 Excerpts from Department of Treasury, EFT Commonly Asked Questions	657
	I.3 ETA Information	661
	I.4 Electronic Transfer Account Features	673
	I.5 Direct Express Card	689
Appendix J	Protection of Exempt Funds in Bank Accounts	697
Appendix K	Electronic Signatures and Records
	K.1 Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act	709
	K.2 713The Uniform Electronic Transactions Act (UETA)	714
	K.2.1 State-by-State Analysis of State UETA Enactments	714
	K.2.2 The Uniform Electronic Transactions Act (1999)	719

Contents

Index 743

Quick Reference to Consumer Credit and Sales Legal Practice Series . . . 771

